PINE NUT KERNELS

Despite the fact that any product retains its best qualities in its original form, it is obvious that eating nuts in the shell is not very convenient. That is why Vse Svoyo organized a nut peeling department!

The peeled pine nuts are completely ready for use, while retaining a significant part of its healthy properties.

Advantages of the produced kernels:

- Siberian northern nut is much tastier and more valuable
- We guarantee the origin of the nut, as it is completely impossible to determine the peeled nut origin
- Unlike large-scale production, we do not face the task of long-term storage of a large volume of raw materials. So nuts are not subject to freezing.
- The most lean technologies are used when processing raw nuts
- Our priority is to preserve the best properties of the product, not to increase and speed up production
- We process pine nuts all year round as needed, so we always have freshly peeled kernels
- We use vacuum packaging, which improves greatly the product safe keeping

Pine nuts are the most valuable products that Siberians give to friends, relatives and colleagues, as pine nuts in such quantities and of such quality grow in Siberia only

SIBERIAN HERB PRESERVES

Siberian herb preserve is a thick amber-coloured syrup with the aroma of nine Siberian herbs: meadow-sweet, oregano, currant and raspberry leaves, mint, lemon balm, tarragon, clover and yarrow. It almost looks like fresh honey, but is much more aromatic. Honey has its own distinctive taste and smell, while Vse Svoyo branded preserve not only conveys the aromas of fragrant Siberian fields in their pure form, but also expresses them in the form of taste.

It is good as a separate dessert, as a topping, as syrup for drinks, etc. Each jar contains several fragrant sprigs of meadow herbs, which are great for tea brewing.

Herbal preserve combined with pine nuts is our top product. It combines the tastes and aromas of Siberian nature in the best possible way!

TAIGA SYRUPS

Syrup-preserves turned out to be popular among consumers. So we decided to create a syrups product line to continue the herbal preserve format with rosehip, hawthorn, and pine syrup.

Unlike pharmacy analogues, Vse Svoyo syrups have a lighter concentration, which allows to use them without restrictions, unlike pharmacy analogues.

They are used as an independent delicacy, toppings or a basis for drinks.

PINE NUTS IN SYRUPS

Having such a nice foundation as fragrant taiga syrups, the pine nut products manufactures were almost obliged to create a set of unique gifts of nature: syrups with pine nuts.

Pine nut is a healthy and nutritious culinary base and the syrup adds a unique aroma to it.

The dessert is perfect as the taiga delicacy and as an addition to pastries.

It is identical to the Himalayan salt in its properties, though Siberian salt contains more magnesium. It is mined by the open method in an ecologically clean region of Tuva. Since ancient times, local peoples value a lot the healing properties of natural Siberian salt. So called salt stones were not only used in traditional cooking, but also were a subject of commodity exchange and were presented as a gift to rulers of other lands.

Today, years later, industrial production and processing of Siberian salt has been resumed. Our company offers Siberian edible salt both for the food industry, HoReCa enterprises, and for owners of salt rooms, sanatoriums, saunas, and enterprises engaged in the field of cosmetology.

A profiled sheet is a light, inexpensive and durable building material, which is a sheet of cold-rolled steel with trapezoidal corrugation. Profiled sheets are used in the construction of fences, sheds, hangars, as well as walls and roofs of residential and industrial buildings.

Grooves give the profile additional reinforcement, bending resistance and reliability. This geometry makes it possible to use profiled sheets NS-35 not only for roofing and fencing, but also in load-bearing structures subject to considerable loads.

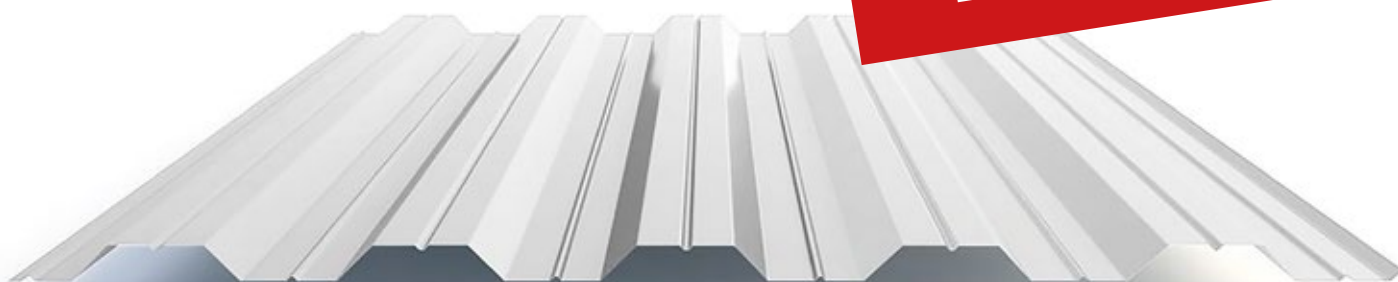

Scope of application:

- Roof covering. Polymer-coated profiled sheets are suitable for flat and pitched roofs. They are also used in the climatic zones with frequent strong winds.
- Construction of frame structures. Due to its excellent rigidity, it is possible to build temporary buildings, fences, warehouses and other similar structures.
- NS-35 are suitable for finishing of both interior and exterior walls, including those with heat insulation.
- Manufacture of sandwich panels.

Features of Supermonterrey series metal tiles

The wave pitch is 350 mm (as in Monterrey) but the profile height is increased to 21 mm. This gives the sheets a completely different decorative look:

- small roof attracts more attention;
- the relief looks different depending on the angle of light incidence;
- the roof looks more massive, which is important for large houses with small angles of roof slopes;
- metal tile emphasizes the style and architecture of the building.
